

News photo by Larry E. Wright

ASTRO KIDS? — Youngsters found this new toy, although not quite completed, at the Summit Park Plaza on Depot Street between Fourth and Fifth Avenues, and decided to explore the structure, which resembles a space capsule. An Ann Arbor Parks and Department official said "the kids aren't supposed to be there yet and they can hurt themselves." The park is expected to be finished within a month