MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF

The Ann Arbor Police Department Annual Report acknowledges the year behind us as we also press to carve a new horizon. As your new police chief, it is important that I recognize the leadership exemplified by Interim Police Chief Patrick Maguire over the past year. I am also proud to lead this department while reflecting on the great accomplishments carried out by the people of the police department. The members of this organization collaborated with members of the community to listen to concerns specifically related to how police officers embraced fair and just policing practices. These efforts are the basic building blocks required to lead our efforts to serve as a model police agency.

Andre Anderson
Chief of Police
City of Ann Arbor

While this message also allows for Interim Police Chief Patrick Maguire to reflect on the accomplishments he led in 2023, before I pass the baton back, I want you to know that as a team, our efforts this year will place a greater emphasis on participatory practices, community engagement and working to answer the question “why” prior to seeking solutions. We seek “why” because taking time to understand the root cause of concerns sets in motion the willingness to cultivate tailored responses to complex challenges. I believe that we can be problem-solvers in the community if we understand the key concerns that drive behaviors, actions and the sentiment expressed about the police within our diverse community. We will set our sights on the development of police leaders which will transcend throughout the department. We will be embracing technology to advance our efforts. By taking a critical look at the success and organizational challenges, we will create efficiencies designed to enhance customer service, internally and externally.

Lastly, we must do our part to be part of a national conversation trending toward finding common values. We play a significant role in our country’s perspective on quality of life issues. That’s why we must inspire people we come into contact with showing the good nature that resonates in our actions.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF

2023 was a year of continued transition for the Ann Arbor Police Department. As one generation of staff hired over twenty years ago began to retire, this created the opportunity to recruit, hire, and train the next generation of the AAPD. Throughout the year, new staff joined those already dedicated to providing service and protection to Ann Arbor. Together, the dedicated members of the AAPD took on new challenges, sought out training to remain on the cutting edge, and found innovative ways to serve the City of Ann Arbor.

Patrick Maguire
A/Deputy Chief
City of Ann Arbor

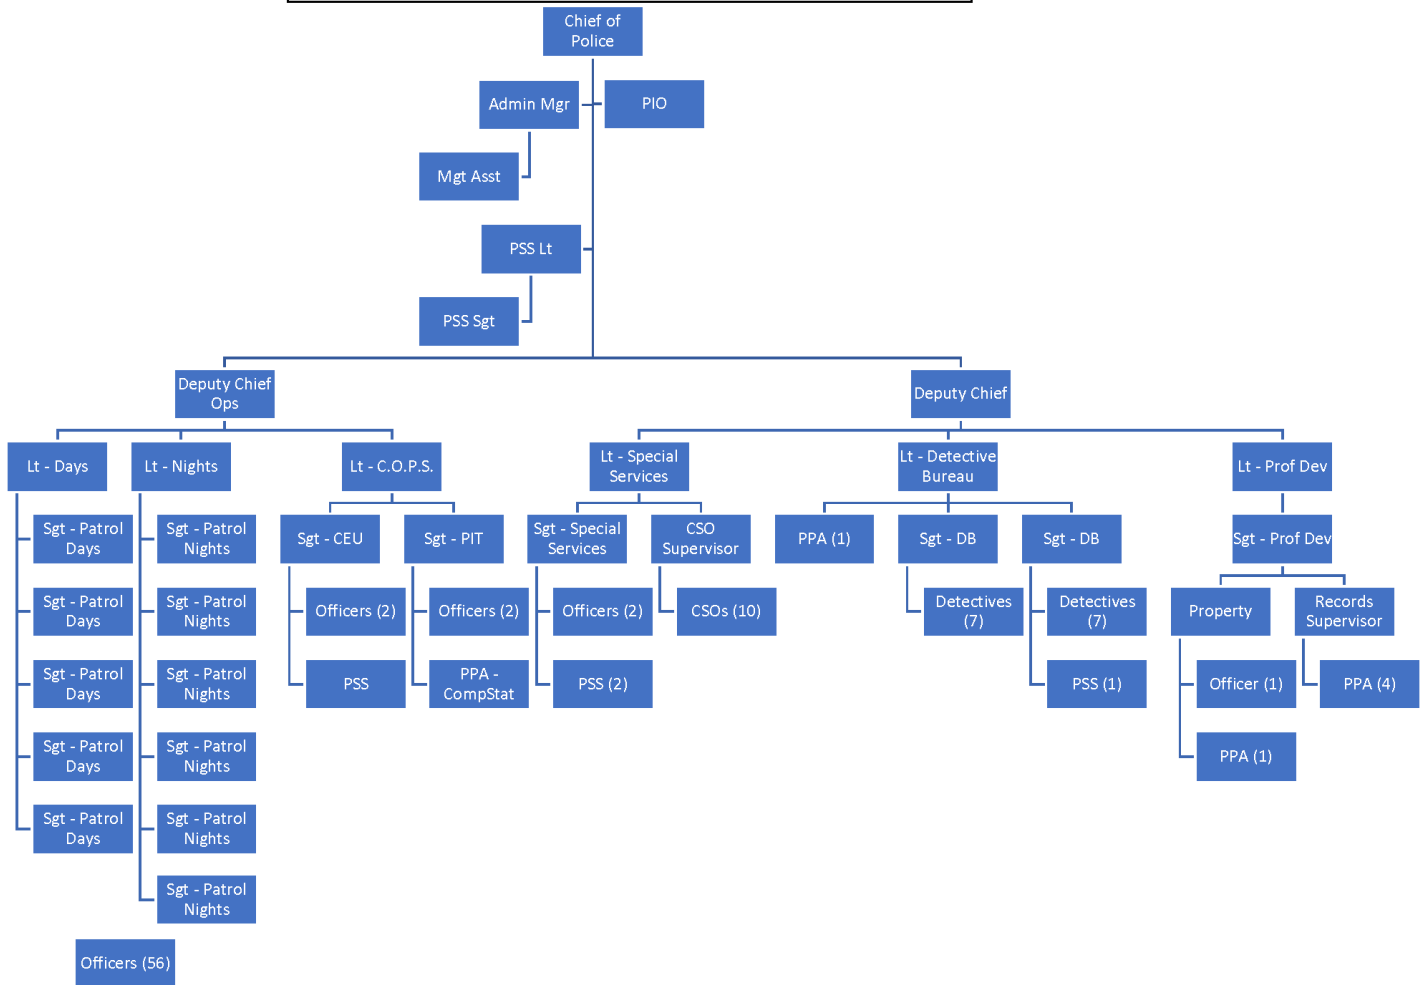

As the challenges of COVID and 2020 began to fade in the rear-view mirror, the AAPD saw the return of pre-pandemic levels in terms of calls for service. 2023 saw a more than 10% increase in calls for service when compared to the prior year. This works out to more than 15 extra calls per day. While navigating the challenges of increased call loads and staffing vacancies, the department was able to keep an eye on the future and grow relationships with residents and community groups throughout the city.

Just prior to closing out 2023, the City of Ann Arbor announced the selection of our new Chief of Police. This excitement is the perfect cap to a successful year. I am proud to have been a part of the team leading the department through an exciting year of growth and transition. 2024 promises to bring more challenges, and more success as the AAPD partners with the community to successfully fulfil Ann Arbor's desired destiny.

- 30 detection deployments

COMMUNITY-ORIENTED POLICING SECTION

Lieutenant Corey Mills led the Community-Oriented Policing section.

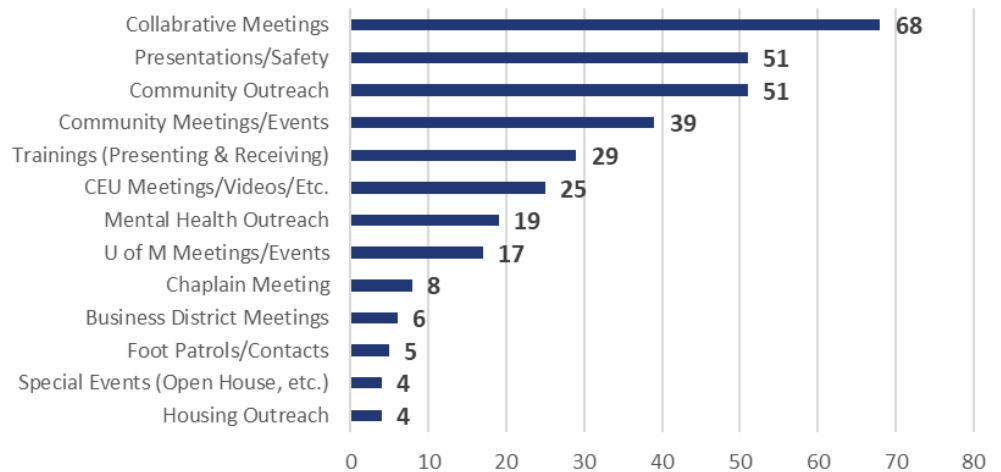

Community Engagement Unit

The AAPD is honored to allow our community members to witness, first hand, how we serve the community from the inside out. Station tours expose community members to our patrol division and our detective division to see the behind the scenes work that goes on within the AAPD. We also offer presentations to community members with topics of conversations can range from providing an understanding of our philosophy of service to our hiring/training practices. AAPD encourages community members to ride a long with officers during the performance of their daily duties. Ride alongs allow you to “partner” with a police officer and learn how we respond to calls.

COMMUNITY-ORIENTED POLICING DIVISION

The Community-Oriented Policing Section is comprised of the Community Engagement Unit and the Problem Impact Team.

2023 Community Engagement Unit Statistics

Safety Town is a program for young 5’s, kindergarteners and first graders sponsored by the Ann Arbor Police Department and the Ann Arbor Recreation and Education Department (Rec & Ed), the program is designed to teach children about safety in a fun and interactive learning environment. The program includes classes such as: bike and vehicle safety, stranger safety, fire safety, pedestrian safety, and riding a school bus. Last year 563 children went through the program.

SUPPORT SERVICES DIVISION

THE SUPPORT SERVICES DIVISION IS LED BY DEPUTY CHIEF JASON FORSEBERG. THIS DIVISION IS COMPRISED OF THE DETECTIVE SECTION, PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT, AND THE SPECIAL SERVICES SECTION.

DETECTIVE SECTION

Lieutenant Bonnie Theil is the Commander of the Detective section.

The Ann Arbor Police Department detective section investigates criminal activity occurring in the city of Ann Arbor. Detectives' responsibilities typically begin after the initial response and report. The detectives follow up to ensure a thorough investigation is completed and presented to the Washtenaw County Prosecutor or Ann Arbor City Attorney for warrant authorization and subsequent court proceeding

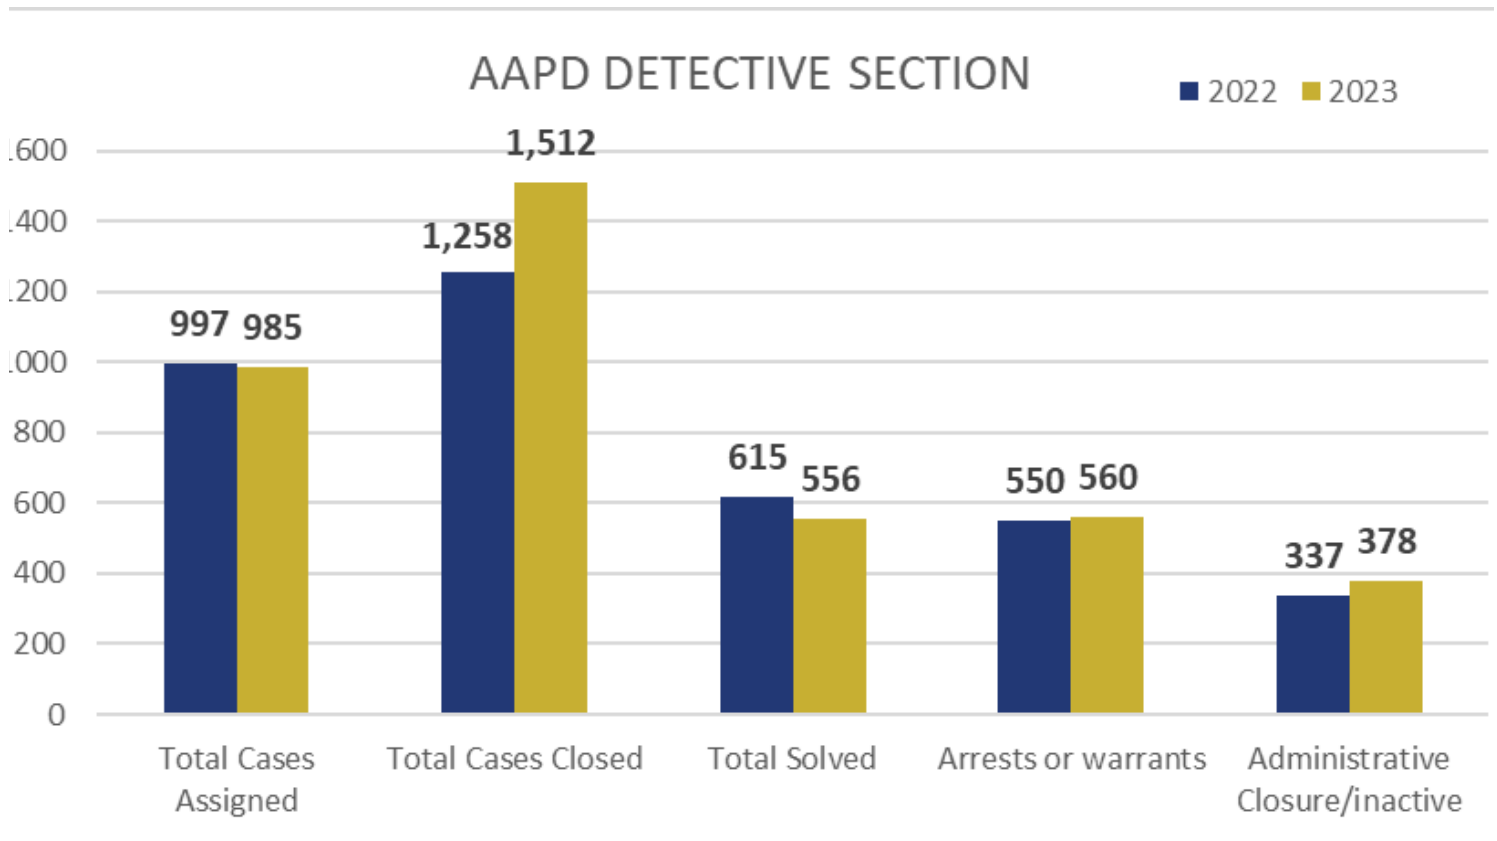

DETECTIVE SECTION

District Detectives

The detective section is staffed by approximately 10 detectives. Many are assigned to one of two district detective groups. These groups investigate cases based on the geographical location of the incident. District detectives conduct investigations on a variety of crimes ranging from larceny and fraud to home invasion, robbery, and homicide. Some detectives have additional training or expertise in crime scene processing, polygraph, digital forensics, fraud, and domestic violence investigations. Sergeant Dawn Murphy, and Sergeant Chris Garrett, directly supervise the district detectives.

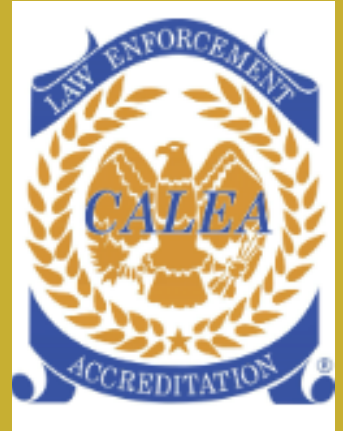

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SECTION

Lieutenant John Dunlap led the Professional Development section.

The Professional Development Section is tasked with the responsibility of policy review, maintaining standard compliance and formalizing essential management procedures within the agency. This section is also responsible for hiring, training, records and property.
